PROJECTS AND CONFERENCE PAPERS

Future of Growth Perspective through Investment: A Case Study of Bangladesh

A working paper that talks about the challenges that Bangladesh faces due to the employment scenario, skill mismatch and stagnant investment scenario. Using 41 years of time-series data, I tried to find long term relationship between investment and manufacturing share of the GDP.

Inclusiveness in Higher Studies in Bangladesh

A working paper where we focused on the equity scenario in the tertiary education level because we wanted to see how this sector is doing without the support of the government and the NGOs. We did an absolute and relative analysis for the descriptive section and we ran a logistic regression to see the relative change in the tertiary education enrolment for changes in gender, wealth quintile, and region.
